LET'S BE THE FIRST...
Rising for a Safe Vadodara for Wo_men
RISING TO ENSURE A SAFE VADODARA FOR WO_MEN*

Sexual harassment / assault of women and girls in public spaces is an everyday occurrence. According to TOI, a recent survey shows that 99% of women confirmed being sexually harassed in their lifetime. Vadodara is no different!

This reality limits women’s mobility, access to public services and their participation in public life. It has lasting impacts on the emotional, mental and physical health, growth and well-being. Yet, sexual harassment remains a neglected issue.

In fact, street harassment is often considered normal.

Determined to make public places safe for women and girls, we have initiated the “Rising to Ensure a Safe Vadodara” campaign. We advocate safeguarding woメン's rights to access public places, so that every woメン can move freely without fear no matter where, when or how!

* The underscore between WO_MEN is called ‘gender gap’. It gives space to the people who don’t or won’t identify themselves as a man or woman.

Sexual harassment is a violation of human rights. Don’t blame yourself, don’t feel guilty, don’t feel social pressure or stigma - BELIEVE THAT IT IS NOT YOUR FAULT! You’re not wrong even if family/friends/neighbors/media/police or anyone else tells you otherwise. SPEAK OUT LOUDLY - THERE IS NO EXCUSE FOR VIOLENCE. Here are some TIPS to deal with such situations.
YOU CAN MAKE A DIFFERENCE

• Always walk confidently with your head held high.
• Don’t ignore your instincts, act upon it immediately before it becomes worse.
• Always remember that it is better to be safe than sorry.
• Don’t panic, instead take a deep breath!
• You have the strength and ability to find a way out.

• Avoid questioning/verbal argument.
• Directly name the behavior with an assertive and loud voice by looking straight at the perpetrator and insist that he stops! This usually leaves the perpetrator dumbstruck.
• Run to the nearest lit houses/street/shop/ATM (for security!) with traffic or crowds and make loud noise to get support.

• Before getting in, note down the auto’s/taxi’s registration number and pass it to concerned people.
• Talk or pretend to be talking on the phone, audible to the driver.
• Be aware! If you feel something is wrong, immediately get off or scream and make people notice!
• In a lift, press all the buttons to your destination to stop it on every floor.

• Don’t hesitate, share your experience with whomever you are comfortable with!
• Make it public! Inform authorities or the perpetrator’s workplace to create pressure.
• Report the crime to the nearest police station, file the FIR. Be sure to take a signed copy.
• In case of being sexually abused or raped, immediately consult the nearest hospital to get a medical check-up done before cleaning yourself up, or urinating.
• No Police Station/Hospital can refuse to assist, it is their legal duty.
• Store all ‘HELINE’ numbers in your mobile: 1098 child helpline, 181 women’s helpline/ 1091 women’s rescue, 108 in emergency; For help in any kind of situation call 100 (Police control).

We strongly believe that you are the best judge of your situation and should make your choice based on the context.
WOMEN’S SAFETY IS EVERYONE’S RESPONSIBILITY

What YOU can do TO TAKE A STAND against sexual harassment/assault:
- This issue is serious. Listen and believe in women’s experiences!
- Learn about it and become more sensitive to what might offend others.
- Offer your support to the people who have experienced violence.

IT STARTS WITH YOU!
- Question your own attitude and behaviours and how they may disrespect or harm women.
- Don’t make/join in/laugh on comments/jokes that make women/girls uncomfortable.
- Sexist language and street harassment all contribute to a culture of violence.
- Don’t walk by if you witness harassment/assault anywhere.
- Look disapprovingly at the person harassing someone.
- Name the behavior: “You just called her a bitch.” State a principle: “That’s not okay.”
- Assess the risk, then intervene and confront the harasser.
- Take support from bystanders, call for help or the police if necessary.
- Stand next to the person being targeted so they know they are not alone.
- Ask the person being harassed “Are you ok?” or if there is anything you can do to help.
- Connect them to support services.

If you can’t confront the harasser directly
- Distract by asking time, directions etc.
- “Accidentally” drop your key/bags/spill coffee to create a disruption.
- Make eye contact with other bystanders and ask, “What should we do to help?”
- Yell “Somebody do something!” and get a group to intervene.
- Take a picture or video for evidence.

Be a role model: Lead by example and talk to your friends, family and co-workers about how they can help to end harassment/violence against women.

A note on safety: We don’t want anyone to get hurt, always think about safety and consider those possibilities that are unlikely to put you or others in harm’s way.
